Foreword

At the half-way point of the Twentieth Century, we, the Rough Rider staff, have tried to capture the spirit of earnestness in work and play prevailing in our high school as it really was. During our four years of school life, we lived through one of the most critical periods in the history of the United States. With constant efforts being made to insure the security of our future from the forces of oppression and evil threatening our way of living, we hope that the experience gained through being educated in a country founded on democratic ideals will make us worthwhile citizens capable of strongly resisting these dangers to our democracy.

It is our hope that in future years, when you leaf through your '50 Annual, you will recall vividly the memories of your school days. We have endeavored to present to you highlights from your daily lives that you may relive them in the years to come.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Allen Oakum, our yearbook advisor, for enduring us this past year. We know that many times he was almost driven to distraction by our antics, and we'd like him to know that we really appreciate his patience.

To the Commercial Press and especially Bill Schraegle, we would like to extend our gratitude for their hours of labor spent in planning and working with the editor and the photography staff, and in translating our somewhat questionable copy. For their untiring efforts and hard work, we express our deepest thanks.

PREVIEW OF 1950 ROUGH RIDER

In organizing the 1950 yearbook, we divided it into nine sections, each preceded by a symbolic division page. A theme of caricatures emphasizing facial expression was used depicting the various departments which they represented. The following are the main divisions into which the book is divided: Dedication, Highlights of 1950, Senior Class, Under Classes, Sports, Alma Mater, Faculty, Activities, and Advertising.

ALLEN J. OAKUM

MARY B. WALKER

Dedication

We, the Class of 1950, wish to dedicate this Annual to our class advisors, Miss Mary B. Walker and Mr. Allen J. Oakum. In recognition of their years of service to the student body and to the school itself, we humbly offer this small token of our appreciation. We, especially, as the Senior Class, wish to thank them specifically for their service to us as advisors during this past year. They acted not just as sponsors but also as friends to whom we could turn when in need of help in solving our problems.

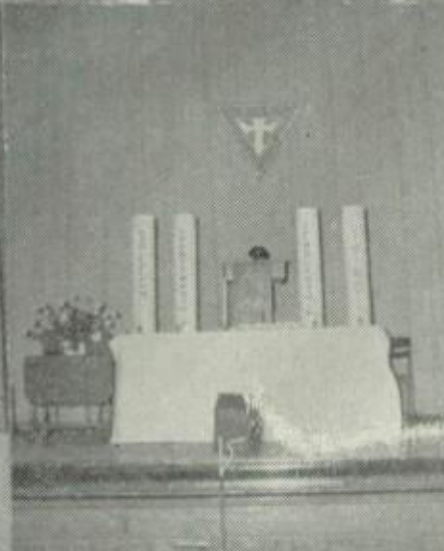

Miss Walker, with whom most of us have become well acquainted through American History and United States government, has taught at Roosevelt for many years. She served as class sponsor and also directed the senior class play many times during her teaching career. This past year she directed our class play, "Mother Is a Freshman," one of the most successful plays produced at Roosevelt in recent years. Besides all this, Miss Walker served as co-director of the operetta and advisor to the business staff of the Annual, a full-time job in itself.

Mr. Oakum has been librarian for the past eight years, in which time he has become well-known to students and faculty alike. For several years, he was advisor to the Junior Class and in the past few years he has served as sponsor of the Senior Class. Mr. Oakum has supervised the publication of the Rough Rider for the past three years. He is also faculty advisor of the Hi-Y, one of the most active clubs at Roosevelt. During the past year he directed the Hi-Y play, "Minor Miracle," which achieved notable success. Mr. Oakum found time for all these activities in addition to maintaining the library, one of the busiest places in the school.

To be successful, it is necessary to have an inspirational force and expert guidance to aid in reaching the ultimate goal. So it is, that in the past year, Miss Walker and Mr. Oakum have enabled us to make a success of our Senior year through their guidance and example. We will not soon forget their service to us and we know that in future years they will go on serving the needs of other students to the best of their ability.

HOME COMING, 1949

Class of 1950 . . .

When we entered school in the Fall, our first big project was class elections in which we dared to break the tradition of the Senior Classes of the past few years by electing a few feminine members to our class offices. Following the trend Sue Eden was elected Annual Editor.

Ten seniors were honored by induction into the National Honor Society. Janet Connors was named valedictorian while Virginia Hurd was the salutatorian. Elected captain of the football team and most valuable player was Dick Rhoads. During basketball season Bill Mandalari was honorary captain and Ed Ferry was elected the most valuable player. Nellie Lou Williams was honored as Homecoming Queen with June Cogan, Janet Connors, and Florence Knapp as her senior attendants.

At Christmas time, we sponsored the "Jingle Bell Jump" with Alan Freed, popular Akron disc-jockey, as master of ceremonies.

At the Band Bazaar Norma Butcher and Bill

Miley were chosen as King and Queen of R. H. S.

Dancing and games provided entertainment for our Senior class party on March 18.

On May 12 we presented our Senior class play, "Mother Is A Freshman." This hilarious comedy was well received by an enthusiastic audience.

We discovered that graduation was almost upon us. Exchanging name cards and pictures, and signing memory books filled our days until Commencement. We attended our last Prom and added the finishing touches to our vanishing school days with the Baccalaureate exercises.

Now with the goal of our past four years about to be realized, we wish to extend our deepest gratitude to all those who have been so helpful to us throughout our high school days. We will never forget their kindness to us; and we hope that they will not forget, but remember us in their thoughts in the years to come.

Class History

The Spring of our high school career dawned brightly in the year of 1944.

We were what you might call war babies for it was plain that we were not accepted as full fledged students by the upperclassmen, who at that time were wrapped up in paper drives (for Uncle Sam) and bond and stamp drives. The drive sponsored by the Boosters netted enough to buy two field ambulances and a life boat.

In keeping with the fight for brotherhood and peace, the Hi-Y was reorganized after a year and a half of inactivity, under the guidance of Mr. Oakum.

Despite the backseat we were forced to take, we still had one distinct privilege, that of being the last seventh grade to attend Roosevelt High School.

In 1945 it was apparent that the upper classmen, at least, were willing to acknowledge the fact that an eighth grade DID exist, for we were granted a member on the Student Council.

Yet it seemed we would never get ahead for the seventh grade had been demoted back to the grade school buildings. We were still the youngest students in the building.

Oh, but now the seasons changed, and we saw true high school life blaze before us as brightly as the Summer sun. Now as Freshmen, in this year of 1946, we finally belonged.

The members of the class who had already spent two years at Roosevelt, looked smilingly at the new Frosh from St. Pat's and Brady Lake as they wandered about somewhat bewildered by the size of 219 and the school in general.

As we got to know these new additions to the class of 1950, we decided that they weren't so "green" after all. In fact we elected three Brady Lake boys, Hugh Hazle, President, Raymond McMullen, Vice-president, and Bob Rae, secretary. To finish our quartet of class officers, we elected as treasurer, Ed Ferry, who had been at Roosevelt since the seventh grade.

As we looked about us we realized that we weren't the only ones who had been promoted, for just as Lincoln had overcome hardships to become President, so had our one-time chemistry teacher overcome all obstacles to become principal. We welcomed Mr. Paulus.

As a sure sign that we had advanced, we now had seats in the auditorium that at least enabled us to see the stage. The P.A. system had not been perfected to the point that we could hear what went on.

Then came the Fall of our high school career.

Although most of us were now members of every club it was possible to have membership in: Boosters, Commercial Club, Gymleaders, etc., something was lacking.

The excitement of our Freshman year had slowly died away, and it seemed years until we would be Juniors.

Our officers for the year were chosen: Ed Ferry was promoted from his previous position of treasurer to President of the Sophomore class. Ed Sapp was elected Vice-President, Florence Knapp served as Secretary, and Janet Connors was now our Treasurer.

The year did pass quickly after all, in a maze of games, dances, paid assemblies, and to top it all off, some of our class members even won coveted parts in the two big dramatic productions of the year, "Drums of Death" and "Best Foot Forward."

To add to the general confusion, a new institution came into being when the first Driver Training class was formed.

The Winter's wind carried with it all the excitement and activity to fill amply our last two years at Roosevelt.

We began the year by electing a set of slightly used class officers because we elected Hugh Hazle to his second term as President. Ed Sapp again became our Vice-President, Florence Knapp again became Secretary and Ed Ferry was demoted back to his original role of Treasurer.

We, as Juniors, faced the problem of raising money to finance the traditional Junior-Senior and also had to scrape up the cash to pay for our class rings. But both will be with us for a long time as material objects, or as memories.

This seemed to be the year of firsts for Roosevelt witnessed its first Homecoming celebration, saw the organization of the Speech Club and the first debate team to be seen at the school for many years. The Juniors attended the first Career Day held at Kent State University, and those students taking Spanish combined their efforts to form the first Spanish Club.

Five of our class-mates were inducted into the National Honor Society; a number of our fellows were taken into the Hi-Y.

The Junior-Senior proved a great success, and we prided ourselves on being the first class to have its annual formal in a former skating rink.

As Seniors, we took over 219, with the co-operation of Mac, and livened up the third floor under the supervision, I mean guidance, well, let's say through the patience of Miss Walker.

John Carson was chosen our new President, Bob Rae, Vice-President, Janet Connors, Secretary, and Tom Knapp (light-fingers we call him) Treasurer.

One of the first BIG events of the season was the second annual Homecoming celebration. Dick Rhoads was chosen the outstanding football player of the year, and was a willing escort for our Homecoming queen, Nellie Lou Williams, as she and her court, Janet Connors, Florence Knapp, June Cogan, Doris DeCenso, Nancy Lee Simmons, and Jean Stauffer, were introduced at the half-time of the Homecoming game.

Under the direction of Miss Walker and Miss Helen Jones, a forgotten form of entertainment was brought to life in the operetta, "An Old Kentucky Garden."

It seemed that we had just become Seniors when it was time to order invitations and announcements of our graduation. We ordered; and paid. We had our pictures taken; and paid. We published the Colonel; and tried to pay.

To add to our list of firsts, we witnessed the first tapping service of the Hi-Y and gave the first class play to be given since 1947. It took Seniors to give a professional touch to "Mother Is A Freshman."

Our Senior speech students also became charter members of the Roosevelt Chapter of the National Forensic League.

The final stages of our wintry season here at Roosevelt were upon us.

Thirty-one Seniors took the Senior Scholarship Test, ten Seniors were taken into the National Honor Society.

Surin' the Senior Party on March 18 was a great success, as was the Booster Private, Junior-Senior, and the never to be duplicated Class Day.

Rehearsals for Baccalaureate and Commencement served to get us out of classes, but it wasn't until we walked down the aisle on the day of our real Commencement, that we realized how much these classes had meant to us.

Our activities and efforts of the past six years flashed before us, and we realized the truth in the words of our motto, "By Our Efforts We Hope to Rise."

BOB HONEYCHUCK, Vice President; RALPH ALDRIDGE, Treasurer; DORIS CERCOLANI, Secretary; TOM BROWN, President.

The Class of '51, under the leadership of Tom Brown, proved themselves worthy of the prestige which accompanies the rank of Junior. Although they were a comparatively small class, they accomplished a great deal through their winning spirit and hard work. They undertook and successfully completed a number of projects all aimed toward their ultimate goal of sponsoring the annual Junior-Senior Prom. They sold concessions at the football games in conjunction with Boosters and the Colonel and later took over exclusive selling rights at noon and at basketball games. They also sponsored a dance after the Ravenna game as another money-making project. Their efforts were at last rewarded, however, by their final achievement, under the direction of Bob Honeychuck and Janet Wingard—an incomparable Junior-Senior.

During the past year, there were many notable events which the Juniors will long remember. High on this list was the purchase of class rings. They were ordered under the direction of Sue Madigan, Chairman of the ring committee, who was responsible for carrying out this project. In October, Nancy Simmons represented her class as attendant to the queen at the annual Homecoming Dance. At the Band Bazaar in February, Bob Honeychuck and Nancy Simmons competed for the honor of being King and Queen of R. H. S., representing the Junior Class.

Much of the credit for the success of the various projects sponsored by the Juniors, is due to the untiring efforts of their advisors, Miss Margaret Berry and Mr. Leonard Sweet. Besides keeping a rein on those rambunctious Juniors during their class meetings, they also held the responsibility of taking charge of the candy sales throughout the year. Miss Berry is also kept busy acting as sponsor of the National Honor Society in addition to her duties as Junior Class Advisor. Mr. Sweet is also Faculty Manager of Athletics, a position which entails a lot of work and responsibility.

The Sophomores, reaching the exalted status of the tenth grade could now look down on the lowly Freshies with disdain. A number of their most successful accomplishments were in the field of speech. Several Sophomores placed high in the various speech tournaments which they entered throughout the year. One of the outstanding social events of the year was a roller skating party which provided them with many thrills and spills. Doris DeCenso represented the class as attendant to the Homecoming Queen. Millie Clark and Gerry Kilbourne were the candidates for King and Queen at the annual Band Bazaar. Student Council representatives are Barbara Myers and Jerry Newton. Advisors are Miss Rankin and Mr. Robuck.

Freshmen at last! the long-awaited day finally arrived. The Freshmen began their high school adventures with enthusiasm. Even though they knew that they would be the subjects of endless teasing, they accepted it meekly, contenting themselves with looking forward to all the fun they would have in their coming four years. Jean Staufeneger was the Freshman Attendant to the Homecoming Queen and Phyllis Reinker and Don Quier were the Frosh King and Queen representatives at the Band Bazaar. Tentative plans were made for a picnic to be held later in the spring. The Student Council Representative is Don Quier. Advisors are Miss Davis and Mr. Andreas.

The Eighth Graders, after weeks of confusion, new schedules, new books, and new classrooms—at last became accustomed to the hallowed halls of R. H. S., and plunged into the business of studying and having fun. One of their projects was a class party, a get-together to enable all the students to get acquainted.

The main diversion of the evening was square-dancing which proved quite popular with the young socialites. They, too, were represented at the Band Bazaar by Madalyn Jo Neff and Clayton Hameister. If their first year at Roosevelt is any indication, they will be one of the most enthusiastic and active classes ever at R. H. S.

DICK RHOADS
Most Valuable Player and Honorary Captain

With a couple of games for a start, it took but a small spark of determination to set him on fire. That fire was so hot, that by the end of the season Dick had not only been elected Honorary Captain, but he had earned the title of the most valuable player.

When the season opened, Dick was resigned to hold up center position. A last minute switch in the line-up promoted Dick to fullback, a switch which no one regretted.

Since he was active in many organizations, leadership came easy to him. This trait came in handy when he was called upon to pull the team through a tight spot.

Pigskin Review

Our coaching staff consists of the long johns, Mr. Kilbourne, Mr. Andreas and the very short (s), Mr. Mileski. This cool combine went into a huddle, and when they came out, they had plans for the '49-'50 Rough Riders. Our new head coach, Joe Mileski, put these plans into operation. Result—small but smooth ball club.

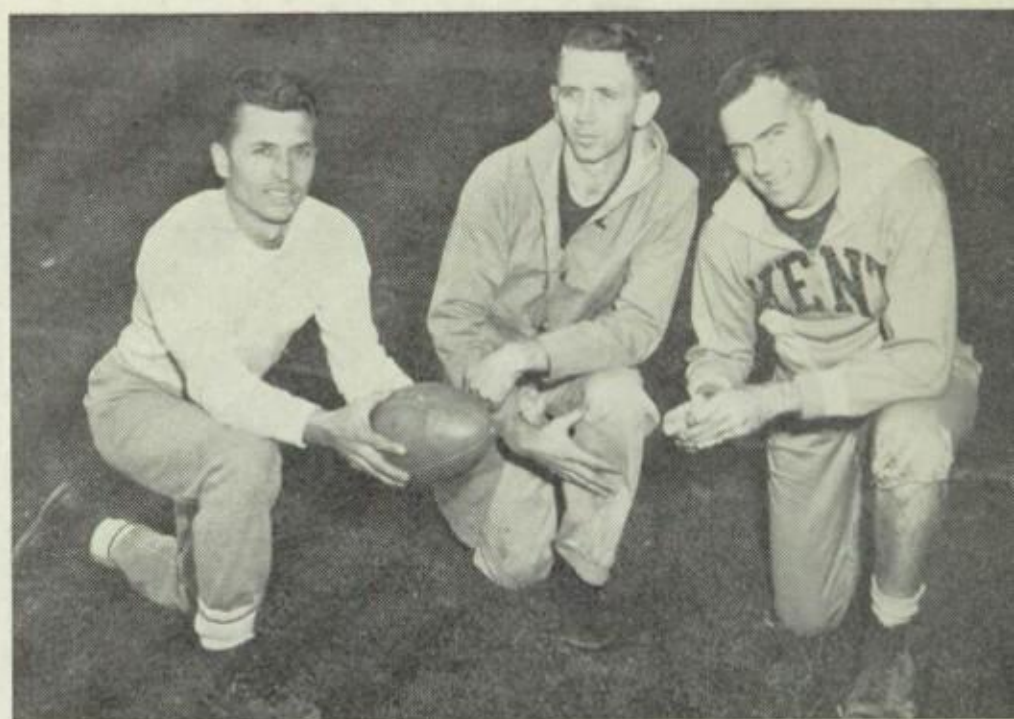

We don't know exactly how to describe the lighter side of the season. It would be possible to write a volume on Mansfield after the game or Kent State after the game.

Let's start at the beginning: We opened the season out at Camp Manatoc with our Annual Summer Training Camp. It was bigger and better than before. We saw our first action against Ravenna in the Grotto Preview. When we scored in eight minutes, it led people to believe that they let us do it.

Novel switch—Sherm Friedland returned with Buchtel to play against his buddies.

A blanket statement will cover the next three endeavors. "We were in a Rut."

Hard work and a revamped line-up turned the tide. We put Bedford to bed. Ah, those friendly

COACHING STAFF

Joe Mileski, Head Coach; Dick Kilbourne, Asst. Coach; Harold Andreas, Asst. Coach

Mansfield Tygresses—we wished we could play Mansfield more often.

Newton Falls had nothing to offer as far as the team is concerned, but their star player gave us a hard time. We won, of course.

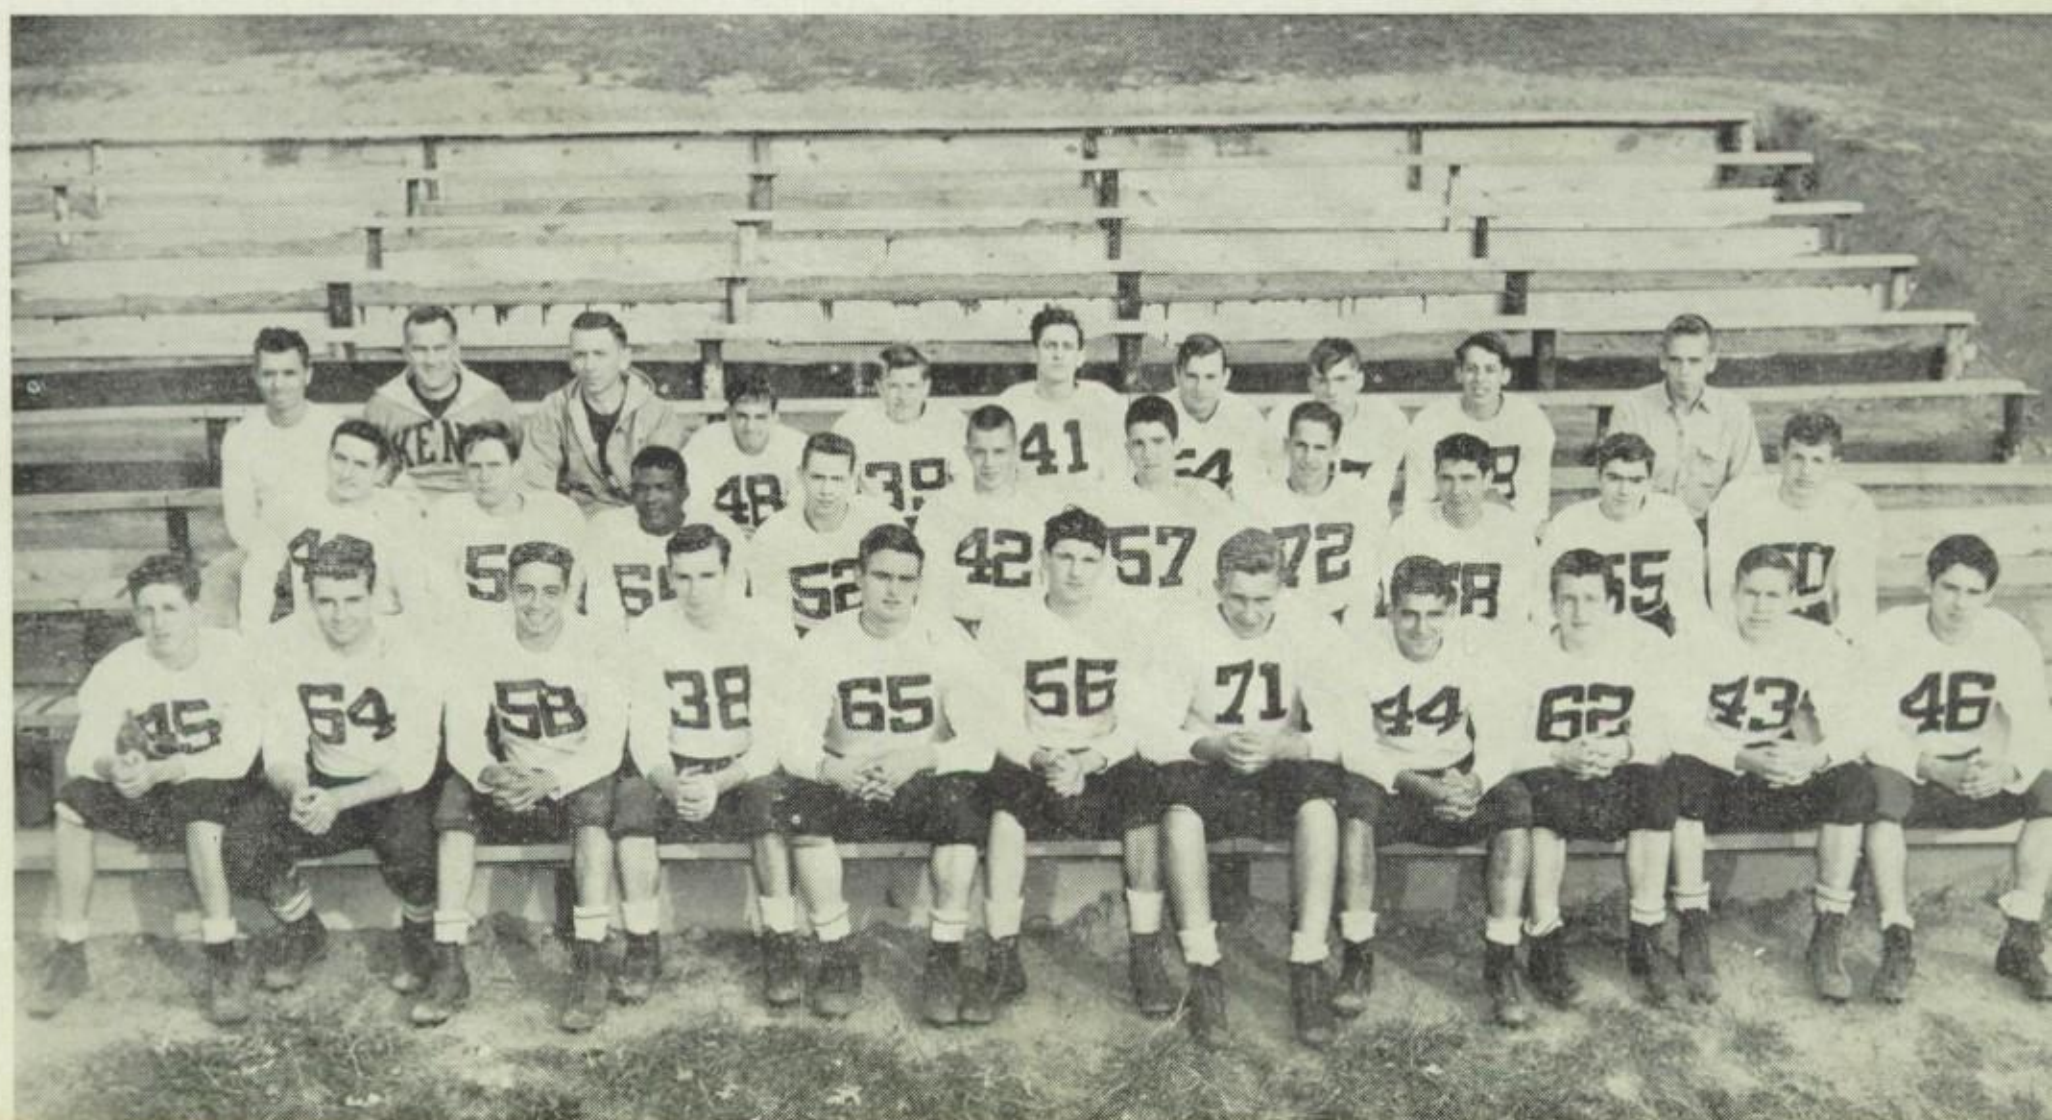

Confusion fouls conversion???—Jim attempted his first extra point—it was blocked. We won again and retained the City Series Crown.

On The Gridiron

King Football ascends throne—sceptor is passed to Vice-Count Joe Mileski. Hearts pound—stomachs flip—a whistle blows—THE KICK-OFF . . . Forrest Brant big gun as we bombarded the Medina Bears 32-0.

Victory not so sweet is a surprise—sick list soars—line-up declines . . . Us 19, Buchtel 7—ouu, were they mad at us!

Passing aspirin sometimes more prevalent in football than conventional pigs epidermis . . . Dick Rhoads now subbing for Forrest Brant . . . Coach unhappy about 6-0 Maple Heights score . . . Team at low ebb as the first two games go down the drain—big pill. To be kind, we shall say the Rough Riders had a rough time—upset 27-6—no paint—no literature (bathroom) in the trees—Cuyahoga Falls felled us in same manner as woodsmen fall the small but mighty oak.

Confidence pays off . . . Rhoads wins acclaim at fullback . . . But back to the game—hard fought first half ends in 13-13 tie . . . At sound of the gun, the score was Ravenna 33, Roosevelt 13 . . . "And Our Tears Flowed Like Wine."

Bedford, a new face—when we finished it looked like it should have stood on the "Bar Room Floor" . . . The difference between do or die . . . We did—19 for us, 12 for them . . . Mansfield dressed their J.V.'s—but just happened to play their first team all the way . . . We held them at two T. D.'s the second half, being unsuccessful giant killers . . . 48-0 not too bad against State Champs.

Riders ride roughshod over Newton Falls Steelers (a pun) . . . Anyway, we won 25-12 . . . Getting that last quarter feeling now—should have tried harder.

Armistice Day brings no truce . . . all Senior platoon invades Memorial Stadium to whip K. S. H. as anticipated . . . Of course us big bullies wuz derided 'cause little Kent State held us to 21 points.

Well, there goes the gun . . . Watch the seniors in the spring!

Off The Backboard

Over the years many basketball teams have gone forth to represent Roosevelt; many were very good teams and some were not so good. This year's quintet established itself as one of the better ones of recent years by finishing its regular season with a 10-8 won-lost record.

Spectators watching Roosevelt's games could always be guaranteed of seeing exceptionally fine floor play by Leroy Thomas, scrappy rebound retrieving by Pat Fitzpatrick and Bob Miller, excellent defensive work by Danny Myers, and aggressive and heads-up ball playing by Ed Ferry. But the spectator could quickly tell that the offensive threat of this team centered around its three fine guards, Ken Bentley, Bill Mandalari, and Harlan Duckwitz. When any two of these three were "on", Roosevelt rode to victory; when they weren't, we lost. Bill Mandalari was elected honorary Captain, and Ed Ferry was voted the most outstanding player of the year. Of course it takes five men to comprise a basketball team, but these boys were the nucleus of ours.

In games with our arch-rivals, Kent State and Ravenna, Roosevelt defeated State twice and grudgingly split two contests with the Ravens.

The season witnessed the Rider's scoring impressive wins over Springfield, Akron Hower, Akron Central, Buchtel, Ellet, Bath Osbourne and Louisville. It also witnessed Ed Ferry sustaining a broken collar bone in the Garfield game, an injury which sidelined the alert pivot man for the remainder of the season and the tournaments. It was a tough break for both Ed and the team.

The first tournament game saw all eleven Roosevelt players assisting in the drubbing of Medina.

In the second game Roosevelt met Wooster and again won, this time coming from behind in the last few seconds.

Our third tournament game was against Akron St. Vincent. After a very bitterly contested game, the towering Saints took the victory.

From The Bench

The Reserve Basketball Team coached by Dick Kilbourne finished the season with ten victories and seven defeats. This is very gratifying for future teams when it is realized that all the players on the team were sophomores, except Jack Stonestreet, who was a freshman, and Ronny Jones, a junior.

The Reserves were a slow starting team losing four out of their first six games. This was due largely to their lack of experience.

The highlights of their season were double victories over Ravenna and Kent State. In other games the Reserves were handicapped due to lack of height and the fact that they were playing juniors and seniors in some of the games. But in more than one game this did not hamper the Reserves because their fighting spirit proved to overcome other handicaps.

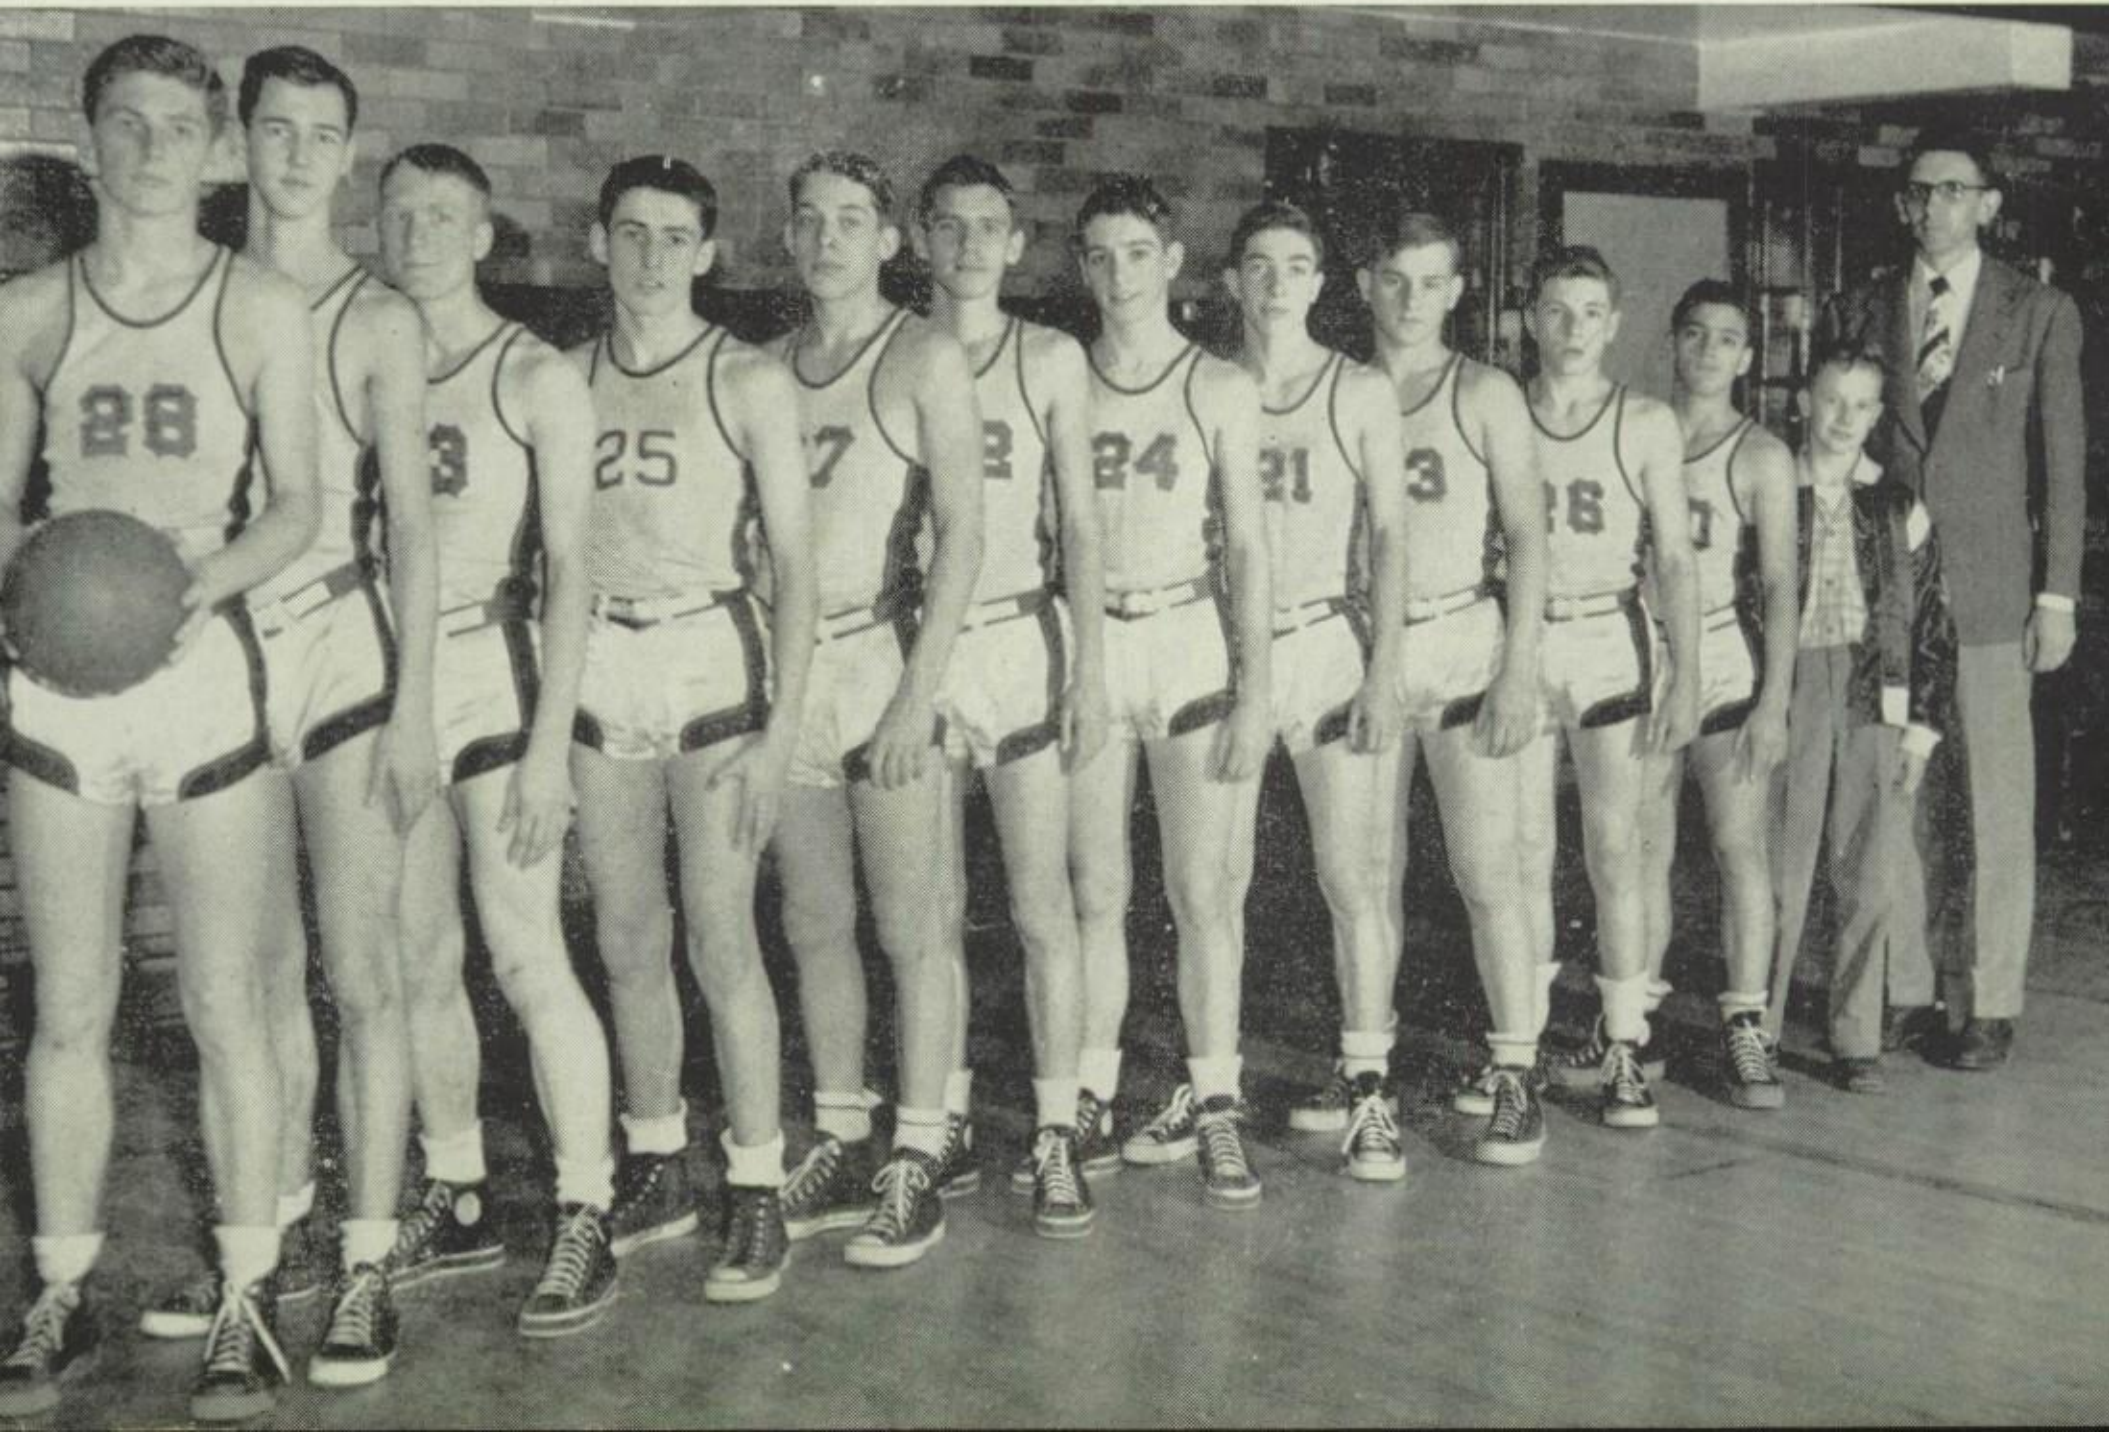

Bill Crow and "Chub" Chionchio were the spark-plugs for the team. Bill was outstanding on his rebounding and offensive work as was Tom Young. "Chubs" ball hawking defense and one handed push shots proved to be a great asset to the team. This does not mean to take anything away from the other players as they all did a creditable job. Nice going to a well coached team.

Then let us pledge in word and deed
Our love for Roosevelt High.

SUPERINTENDENT

Hail Seniors,

Commencement holds the key to your future. It promises a new era of life. Ahead lie the opportunities for which you are trained. Your success will reflect upon the glory of your alma mater. You have had reason to be proud of your school. Will Kent Roosevelt, as the years go by, be proud of you? You owe it to your Country, to your school and to yourself to do your best. Now you are necessarily on your own. Our best wishes go with you.

PRINCIPAL

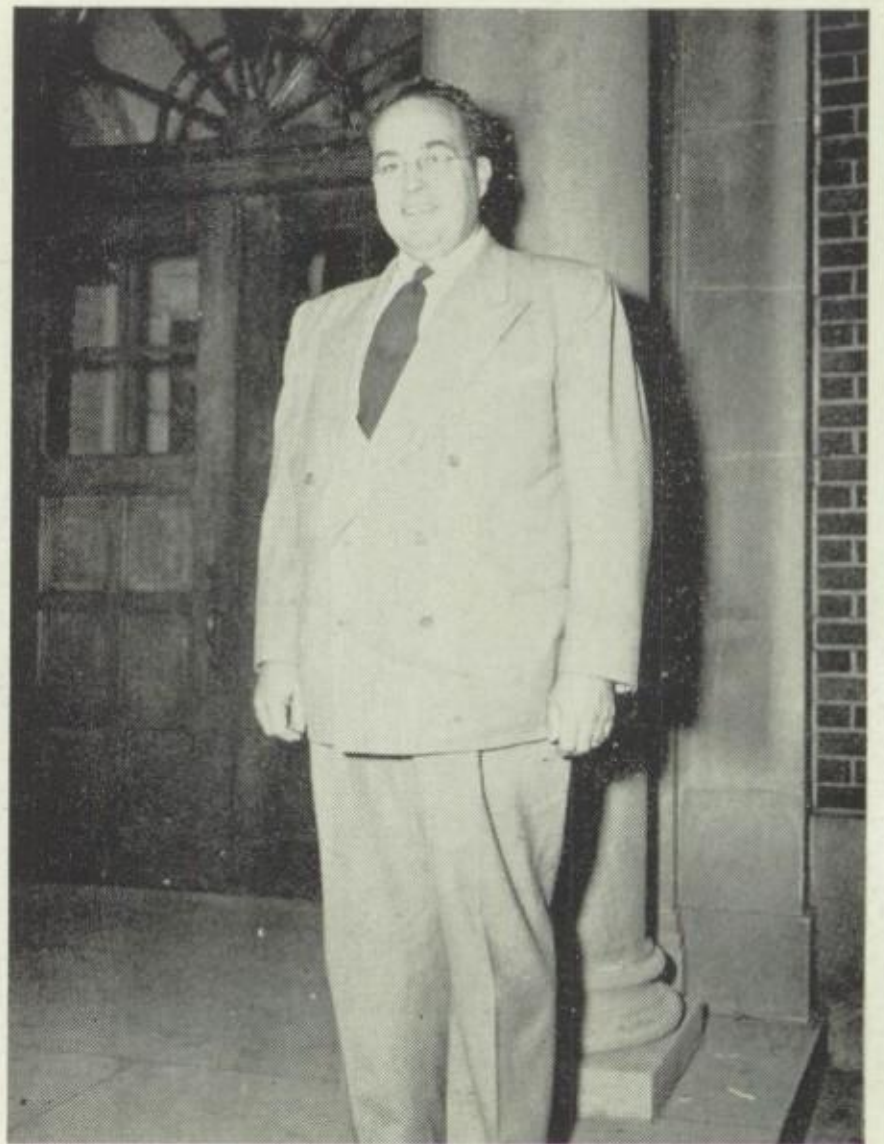

To The Class of 1950,

Someone once wrote in a memory book of mine
- - - "May there be just enough clouds in your life to end in a glorious sunset."

No doubt there have been some clouds in your high school years—but it is my hope that they will make the sunset of graduation a beautiful memory
- - - and may you always carry with you visions of work, of play, of friends, of teachers, and of days and "daze" at Kent Roosevelt.

Sincerely,

CHARLES E. PAULUS

CLASS OF '50

To the administration and faculty:

As we near the end of our high school days, we should like to extend our deepest thanks to those who have made it possible for us to leave Roosevelt more learned and more poised individuals than when we entered. We are indebted to the faculty for instilling into our minds knowledge that will serve as guides in our future lives. To the Board of Education, we are gratified for their interest in us and our activities, and their support of our plans and projects. We feel that we have been especially fortunate in having the supervision of such capable men and women as compose our administration. We shall always be grateful to you for your efforts spent in making our four years at R. H. S. some of the most pleasant and profitable in our lives.
